Lok Sabha Polls

Date announcement today at 5 pm

New Delhi, Mar. 10 (UNI)- The Election Commission of India is set to announce the Lok Sabha election schedule today at 5 pm. Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra will announce the dates at a press conference at Vigyan Bhavan in New Delhi. With the announcement, the Model Code of Conduct will come into force immediately.

Dates are also likely to be announced for Assembly elections in Andhra Pradesh, Sikkim, Arunachal Pradesh and Odisha. The Commission has to decide about Jammu and Kashmir where the Assembly has been dissolved and the law says elections must be held within a six-month period, which will end in May.

While there is a view that the Jammu and Kashmir Assembly elections can be held along with the Lok Sabha polls, but a lot depends on the complex security situation in the State given the heightened tension along the India-Pakistan border.

The multi-phased polls are likely to begin as early as end of March and conclude by mid-May and the results will be announced soon after. President Ram Nath Kovind will then invite members of the 17th Lok Sabha and swear-in a new government. The term of the present Lok Sabha ends on June 3.

The announcement of dates will be followed by a meeting of election observers next week for the first and second phase of polling. In the run-up to the high-stakes polls, several Opposition parties have banded together in the hope of wresting power from the BJP, which registered a thumping victory in the 2014 polls.

The Election Commission's move comes amid accusations of deliberate delay by the Congress. The party said the Commission is giving more time to the government for last-minute announcement of welfare schemes and projects that cannot be done once the model code of conduct kicks in with the announcement of elections.

Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra

Schedule also to be announced for Assembly elections in Andhra Pradesh, Sikkim, Arunachal Pradesh & Odisha

Commission sources have rubbished the claims. "We don't operate as per PM's schedule, we have our own schedule," a senior official of the Election Commission told reporters.

The Commission has held several review meetings across the country in last few weeks to gear up its machinery.

The required Electronic Voting Machines and Paper Trail Machines are in place to be deployed in nearly 10 lakh polling stations across 543 Lok Sabha constituencies.

There is a high probability of the elections being spread across 7-8 phases this time. In 2004, the Commission had announced four-phase Lok Sabha polls on February 29. While the first date of polling was April 20 and the last date was May 10.

In 2009, the Commission had announced Lok Sabha poll scheduled on March 2. The five-phase polls began on April 16 and ended on May 13. In 2014, the Commission had announced the election schedule on March 5 and the nine-phase electoral exercise was spread across April and May. While the first phase of polling was on April 7, the last phase was on May 12.

This April will be hotter than March, predicts weatherman

Health Officers caution residents about summer diseases; precautionary measures in place

Mysuru, Mar. 10 (MTY&BCT)- Mysuru touched 37.9 Degrees Centigrade on Mar. 8 (Friday) and it was the hottest day so far in March. On Mar. 6, the temperature was recorded at 35.8 Degrees Centigrade and on Mar. 7, it was 36.9 Degrees.

Data from Organic Farming Research Station at Naganahalli (OFRSN) on the outskirts of Mysuru says that the minimum temperature in Mysuru in the last three days hovered between 16.8 degrees to 18.9 degrees. The related humidity percentage is between 60 and 72.

On Mar. 10 and 11, the maximum temperature is likely to be 36 Degrees Centigrade, and on Mar. 12, 37°C and on Mar. 13, the maximum temperature is likely to be 38°C.

People quench their thirst with tender coconut following rising summer temperature.

As forecast received from Indian Meteorological Department, cloudy sky and light rainfall may be expected from Mar. 10 to Mar. 13 in Mysore district. The day temperature is expected to be 35-38°C and the night temperature is expected to be 17-19°C. The relative humidity in the morning hours is expected to be 70-75 per cent and afternoon relative humidity is expected to be in the range 20-25 per cent," the data says.

Data provided by Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre said many places in south interior Karnataka have already recorded above normal temperature. This summer, mercury levels are expected to rise by 2-3°C and summer in 2018 was not severe as the State received pre-monsoon and monsoon rain in May itself, officials said.

Weather scientists are expecting April to be hotter than March. Day temperature could be marginally high this year because of a host of reasons including insufficient and scattered rainfall. Besides, there are adverse effects of deforestation and pollution.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The other day my local subziwala had on display some extremely large and juicy-looking pears. I asked him what part of the country they came from. They come from a place called Tasmania, he replied proudly. I don't think he could accurately pinpoint Tasmania on a map. But he knew it was very far away from where we were, in Haryana. Pears from Tasmania are not the exception. Our neighbourhood shops stock grapes from California, apples from Oregon, dates from Dubai, and chocolates from Belgium. Similarly, our Basmati rice, and Darjeeling tea, and Alphonso mangoes, to name just a few items, find their way to markets all over the world.

It wasn't always so. True, what today we call the Spice Route ferried, for hundreds of years, pepper and other condiments from what is now Kerala to Arabia, and from there to Europe. The Portuguese brought chillies to India some 500 years ago when they landed in what we now call Goa. Walter Raleigh introduced tobacco and potatoes from America to England in the reign of Elizabeth I. We get not just fruit, but all sorts of products — from automobiles to zip fasteners — from all over the world. It's called globalisation. But even as products flow freely across borders, people are finding it more and more difficult to cross those same borders. How come foreign products are legal, but foreign people are 'illegal'? Or have people become a product other people don't want?

Nurses release cockroaches into ward

Naples: Police have said that nurses at a hospital in Naples may have released cockroaches into a ward in order to get it closed. Detectives suspect the insects were introduced to the Accident and Emergency ward at the Vecchio Pellegrini Hospital by staff who wanted to be transferred to less demanding jobs. Hospital Director Maria Corvino said "Nurses and trade unionists appear to have sabotaged the Pellegrini in order to obtain a transfer elsewhere."

It is believed the bugs were brought into the hospital in a bag containing sawdust and a sheet. Authorities' suspicions were raised when an expert found the cockroaches were not local ones, but from Central and South America.

Man's blocked nose caused by tooth in nostril

Denmark: A man in Denmark, who was suffering from blocked nose for two years finally got relief when doctors discovered a tooth inside his nostril. Doctors were shocked to find the rare condition in the 59-year-old who had been complaining of nasal congestion problems, discharge and a loss of his sense of smell for two years. The symptoms occurred mainly on the left side of his nose, and he'd tried topical nasal steroids with no improvement. The man had suffered facial trauma when he was young, which had left him with a fracture to his jaw and nose, but doctors said there was no evidence to suggest repositioning following the incident was connected to the nasal growth condition.

After a CT scan, the doctors used an endoscope to perform the surgery. The tooth extraction took place at University Hospital Aarhus. The exact cause of the rare condition is unknown, as only 23 patients have ever been identified covering the years 1959-2008.

'Mysuru Memories'
narrate academic grandeur of Mysore University

Sir,

We, Mysureans are beholden to Star of Mysore for publishing illuminating articles by Dr. S.N. Bhagirath under the column Mysuru Memories. His write-up on D.L. Narasimhachar (SOM dated Mar.5) and earlier ones on Dr. M.H. Krishna, Prof. M. Hiriyanna, Dr. R. Shamasastry, Prof. Nanjundappa and Krishnappa Venkatappa so picturesquely narrate the historic period of academic grandeur of University of Mysore in particular, and the cultural heritage of Mysuru city in general.

Common thread one finds is that neither extreme economic poverty nor the place of birth came in the way of their pursuit of knowledge and academic excellence. Single-minded commitment to knowledge was their mission.

Would it be wrong to surmise that the first four decades of the University were its golden period of academics? After reading these articles one wonders whether the motto of the University "Na hi Jnanena Sadrusham" (Nothing is equal to Knowledge) has any relevance today?

Can the University survive, let alone prosper, by living on the past glory?

RailTel to initiate paperless system in Indian Railways

Mysuru, Mar. 10- Soon, Indian Railways will shift from manual filing system to e-office to bring transparency and efficiency in functioning.

RailTel, a 'Miniratna' Public Sector Undertaking (PSU) under Ministry of Railways, has taken up the work of implementing e-Office system for Indian Railways. E-Office project is a Mission Mode Project (MMP) under the National e-Governance Programme of the Government of India. The project aims to usher in more efficient, effective and transparent inter-government and intra-government transactions and processes.

An MoU in this regard has been signed between Sunil Gupta, Executive Director, Railway Board and Shaminder Singh, Executive Director, RailTel in the presence of V.K. Yadav, Chairman, Railway Board, N. Kashinath, DG, S&T, Railway Board, Sudheer Kumar, Principal Executive Director, Transformation, Railway Board, Puneet Chawla, CMD, RailTel and other senior officials of Railway Board and RailTel.

Indian Railways is one of the largest employers of the country and its offices cover almost every part of India. Till date, the institution has been burdened with manual ways to handle office documents. This not only makes the process slow but consumes more workforce energy.

To change the scenario and bring the digital culture in Railways, implementation of e-Office has started with an aim to provide reliable, efficient, and effective way to handle office files and documents.

E-Office is cloud-enabled software that is deployed or hosted from RailTel Tier III certified data centre. It is based on Central Secretariat Manual of e-Office Procedure (CSMeOP). This is a giant leap forward to digitise and achieve greater efficiency and productivity for the Indian Railways.

The product is built as single reusable system by bringing together independent functions and systems under a single framework to enhance transparency, increase accountability and transform the government work culture and ethics.

CM Kumaraswamy meets PM Modi in New Delhi

Seeks early release of funds for drought relief

Bengaluru, Mar.10 (KMS&SR)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy meeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi in New Delhi yesterday seeking early release of drought relief funds and other issues, triggered speculations of the imminent political changes in the State and country after the Lok Sabha polls.

Amidst busy schedule of pre-election meetings of Prime Minister at Noida and other parts of Uttar Pradesh, CM HDK calling on Modi has created a lot of political sensation in the State.

Kumaraswamy also appealed the PM to release the pending funds under the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) and Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) for drought mitigation and wage component and material component to the State.

He sought the early release of Rs. 2,064.30 crore funds to provide relief to drought-hit farmers in the ongoing rabi season from the Union government to provide compensation to farmers in the State. 100 out of 176 taluks in the State had been severely affected by drought.

Kumaraswamy informed the Prime Minister that the State reeled under severe drought during kharif season as well, but the financial assistance sanctioned by the Centre was inadequate. The total crop loss during the kharif and rabi seasons together has been estimated at Rs. 32,335 crore, he added.

The State has released Rs. 386 crore from the State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) and given priority to ensure drinking water and fodder, Kumaraswamy said.

Invitation: Kumaraswamy also met Chief Justice of India Ranjan Gogoi and invited him to inaugurate the District Court complex in Hassan.

Three in forefront for BJP ticket from Chamarajanagar

Bharathi Shankar K. Shivaram Advocate S. Arunkumar

Mysuru, Mar.10- Even as the Election Commission of India (ECI) is yet to announce the schedule for the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, State BJP Chief and former Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa is said to be in constant touch with the party's National Chief Amit Shah on finalising the list of party candidates.

The first list of candidates is likely to be released on Mar.15. While sitting MP Pratap Simha is likely to get the ticket again from Mysuru-Kodagu, the names of 12 candidates has been shortlisted for Chamarajanagar.

Ultimately, there are three candidates left in the race for Chamarajanagar seat which is reserved for SC category. They are former T. Narasipur MLA Bharathi Shankar, former IAS officer K. Shivaram and well-known advocate of the city S. Arunkumar.

While Bharathi Shankar has the support of State BJP leaders, K. Shivaram is said to have the blessings of party leaders at Delhi and Arunkumar has local support. Amidst the race for Chamarajanagar ticket, senior BJP leader and V. Sreenivasa Prasad is said to have the final say in the selection of the candidate, it is learnt.

The BJP, which has never won the Chamarajanagar seat, is making all efforts to wrest the seat from the Congress this time. Meanwhile, Sreenivasa Prasad said that it is the BJP high command which will announce the party candidate from Chamarajanagar. Maintaining that he has given his opinion to senior party leaders, he however said that there was no doubt the party would put up an able and strong candidate to take on the Congress.

A. Manju to contest as BJP candidate from Hassan?

Mysuru, Mar.10- In an interesting development, Congress leader A. Manju, who is up in arms against the JD(S), met senior BJP leader V. Sreenivasa Prasad at the latter's residence in Jayalakshmipuram here on Saturday.

Manju held discussions with Sreenivasa Prasad for more than an hour. It is said that Manju met Prasad to seek his support to contest as the BJP candidate from Hassan Lok Sabha seat, where Prajwal Revanna, son of PWD Minister H.D. Revanna is almost certain to contest as the JD(S) candidate. Manju, however said it was a courtesy call on his political guru Prasad.

Meanwhile, sources said that Manju expressed his willingness to contest from Hassan on a BJP ticket if JD(S) supremo and former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda opts out in favour of his grandson Prajwal Revanna or anybody else.

Manju who contested on a Congress ticket from Hassan, lost to H.D. Deve Gowda in the 2014 Lok Sabha polls. Both BJP MLAs of the city S.A. Ramdas of K.R. and L. Nagendra of Chamaraja were not aware of the meeting and no other leader was present during the meeting, it is learnt.

Speaking about the meeting, Sreenivasa Prasad said A. Manju was his friend since 1983 and he has great respect for him.

Maintaining that Manju called on him while he was en-route to his hometown Arakalgud in Hassan district, Prasad said it was only a courtesy call.

Pointing out that it was natural for politicians to talk about politics when they meet, the senior BJP leader said it was imperative for the BJP to put up a strong candidate against Prajwal Revanna.

Claiming that the two did not discuss about Manju's chances of becoming the BJP candidate from Hassan, Prasad said he believes Manju may have held talks with senior BJP leaders in this regard.

'Ambarish body was brought to Mandya by CM for political gain

Earlier in the day, Manju who visited Mandya, alleged that bringing of actor turned politician Ambarish's body to Mandya had a hidden political agenda and that has been proven now.

Speaking to media persons at Mandya, Manju said that the JD(S) had benefited from late Ambarish and is now attacking him and his family for political gains.

Stating that the people of Mandya should exhibit their self respect by electing a local candidate instead of electing Nikhil Kumaraswamy, an outsider, Manju lashed out at the Legislators from Mandya for backing family politics and distributing the tickets of Nikhil's movie.

Maintaining that the election of a local person to the Parliament would enhance the image of the people of Mandya, he criticised PWD Minister H.D. Revanna for his recent comments against the late actor 's wife Sumalatha and said that Revanna has no culture of respecting women.

Talents Fest marks Dr. Gangubai Hangal's 106th birth anniversary

Rs.4.90 crore for development of Music Varsity in city: GTD

Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda seen during the State-level Inter-University Cultural and Arts Talents Fest organised at the premises of Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University in Lakshmipuram recently, as part of Dr. Gangubai Hangal's 106th birth anniversary celebrations.

Mysuru, Mar.10 (MK&NNN)- Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) announced that he is ready to sanction Rs.4.90 crore for the development of Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University at Lakshmipuram in city where new buildings will be constructed and all modern facilities provided.

He was speaking after inaugurating the State-level Inter-University Cultural and Arts Talents Fest at the Music University premises in Lakshmipuram here recently, organised as part of Dr. Gangubai Hangal's 106th birth anniversary celebrations.

All that the University students need is encouragement and hence, all the facilities required for studying music and performing arts will be provided. A beautifully designed unique building, library, practice room and other facilities will be given, he said.

Dr. Gangubai Hangal was born in Karnataka and took music to great heights in the world. She had sung the welcome song at the Congress Convention in Belagavi and won everybody's hearts. It is very laudable that a Cultural and Arts Talents Fest has been organised on her birth anniversary. The students from different Universities participated and exhibited their talents. The students should follow the footsteps of Dr. Hangal and renowned signer Pandit Vinayak Toravi, the Minister said.

Our hut is better than someone else's Palace: "The students had submitted memorandums stating that they are facing a lot of problems. Later, they were provided facilities at the premises of KSOU Academic Bhavan near Mandakalli. However, I am very happy that you returned to this place. Instead of somebody's Palace, our hut is any day better. The In-charge Vice-Chancellor is doing very good work and it should continue. The University should grow to international level," said GTD.

Students win hearts with their talents: The students who had come from different Universities won the hearts of the connoisseurs with the folk (Janapada) songs and dances. While the SJMVS College students danced to the tune of folk songs, the students of Akkamahadevi University College danced with great gusto to the tunes of Rajasthani folk songs inviting whistles and claps from the audience.

Later, Music University students, Karnataka Janapada University and students of Sharana Basava University performed Alaravi Kunita and Veeraghase Kunita winning the appreciation of those present.

On the occasion, International Hindustani Singer Pandit Vinayak Toravi was felicitated. Former Agriculture University's Prof. M. Mahadevappa, Music University's in-Charge Vice-Chancellor Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote, Registrar Prof. R. Rajesh, Finance Officer Gayathri, Bhuvana and others were present.

City's Coin Man displays over 1,000 coins from 93 countries

Mysuru, Mar.10 (RKB&DM)- A day-long exhibition of coins (from ancient to modern) was organised by Maharaja's College, in association with the Department of Ancient History & Archaeology and Musicology and the Department of History and Graduate Library, University of Mysore (UoM), at the Library Reference Hall, Maharaja's College campus here recently.

The exhibition was by Dr. Abdul Rasheed, popularly known as the 'Coin Man of Mysore.' The main objective of the exhibition was to create awareness on the antiquity of Indian Coinage among students and members of the public. The exhibition was inaugurated by H.I. Abdul Rashid, Programme Executive (Co-ordination), All India Radio, Mysuru.

The exhibition featured coins of the next age that were circulated in India by the Indo-Greek kings of North Western India. The coins are mainly made of Silver, Copper, Nickel and Lead. The collection of coins belonged to dynasties like Kalingas, Hoysalas, Cholas, Vijayanagar Moghuls and coins from East India Company, all of which were made of Gold, Silver, Copper, Nickel, Aluminium, Lead and other alloys.

The fascinating collection further included coins from the kingdoms of Kashmir, Jaunpur, Malwa, Diwanpur, Gujarat, Bahmanis, Bengal, Shahi and other princely States which existed during the British rule and prior to it, and also from Goa, Hyderabad, Travancore, Mysore, Arcot, Wadiyars, Pudukottai rulers, Peshwas, Marathas.

A total of 1,200 coins of 93 foreign countries from all continents and belonging to the times of Napoleon, Hitler, Queen Victoria, Tipu Sultan and other rulers were on display.

Also on display were more than 2,000 currency coins of India and other unique coins of many great personalities, events, food, agriculture practices etc., of the past. These coins have been collected with great efforts and persevered carefully over the years. They have also been systematically classified, categorised and fixed on proper display boards. It was an informative exhibition on Numismatics, the study or collection of currency, including coins, tokens, paper money and related objects.

The expo chronicled the decline of coinage, with notings in their number, their appearance and their value. Almost all the coins had inscriptions of their times, mainly in Perso-Arabic-script.

The exhibition, apart from display of collection of coins through the ages from punch marked coins to gold coins from the Moghuls to the imperial coins and coins of post-independent India, also featured coins from third century BC, Ghazni era coins from North India and from Kanishka era coins in South India.

Over a thousand students and members of the public visited the expo.

When asked what drove him to pursue such a time-consuming hobby, Dr. Abdul Rasheed said that it all began with a curiosity to know about coins of different countries, supplemented by fascination and passion.

The journey began in the year 1955 when he was studying in high school, where he used to exchange coins which he had in excess from the collections of his forefathers, he said and added that his grandfather was an Inspector during British rule,who had the hobby of collecting coins.

Continuing, Dr. Rasheed said he used to collect ancient coins whenever he visited historical places during his trips abroad and he has coins from as old as 3rd Century BC.

A tribute to three Gurus

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha, in collaboration with Tyagaraja Sangeetha Sabha, had organised a whole-day violin event at its venue on Feb.13. The event was designed by senior violinist of the city H.K. Narasimha Murthy (HKN), his wife Rajalakshmi and their son H.N. Bhaskar.

Nearly a hundred students of HKN participated in this event and it was great to watch their devotion towards their guru. The event was a tribute to three Gurus of the Parur School — Parur Sundaram Iyer, Parur Gopalakrishnan and Parur Anantaraman.

The hall was packed with connoisseurs and parents of the kids who were bubbling with ebullience and excitement.

The day started with the beginners, who rendered three Adi Tala varnas in Mohana, Hamsadhwani and Abhogi. Ranjan Kashyap provided the mridanga support for them. Quite a few compositions followed by the second set of students. 'Shri Gananatham' in Eesha Manohari by Muthuswami Dikshitar, 'Shree Guruguha Tarayashumam' in Devakriya, 'Koniyade' in Kokiladhwani by Tyagaraja and 'Palukavademira' in Poornachandrike also by Tyagaraja.

The third set of students presented Patnam Subramanya Iyer's 'Jalajakshi' varna in chakravaka, 'Terateeyaka rada' in Gowli pantu by Tyagaraja, 'Sudhamayi Sudhanidhi' in Amrutavarshini by Deekshitar by Muthiah Bhagavatar and 'Kaumari Gowri' in Gowri Melavali by Deekshitar.

The next set of students played 'Chalamela varna' in Darbar by Veena Kuppaiyer, 'Pahi maam Shree Raja Rajeshwari' by Maha Vaidyatha Iyer, and 'Tanavedani' in Bhushavali by Tyagaraja.

The fifth group started their concert with 'Chalamela' varna in Natikuranji, 'Kannatandri Naa Pai' by Tyagaraja, Eesha Pahi maam' in Kalyani, a Lalgudi Pancharatna kriti by Tyagaraja, the pallavi of which was suffixed with kalpana swaras and Kharaharapriya handled in detail by Chintan. Sai Shiv Lakshmi Keshav provided the mridanga support.

The post-lunch session showcased more senior artistes who presented 'Ninnukori' varna in Vasanta, 'Raghunayaka' in Hamsadhwani by Tyagaraja, prefixed by a couple of rounds of Kalpanaswaras, 'Anathudanu neevu' also by Tyagaraja in Jingla and Vachaspati in detail with the Tyagaraja Kriti — 'Kantha Judumi Okkapari Kri' set to Adi Tala.

Tandava Murthy, Shanta Kumar, Keshav, Kritik and Bhuvan, a young talented boy played 'Sarasuda' in Saveri, 'Shree Rama Ramanam' in Mohana by Pallavi Gopala Iyer, which was prefixed by a short Alapana by little Bhuvan and Shreekantimataim' in Hemavati by Deekshitar. They were accompanied by G.S. Ramanujam on mrdanga and V.S. Ramesh on morching.

The evening was interesting with a fusion directed by Bhaskar, in which more than 35 students participated. It was a pleasure to watch so many students perform with such synchronisation. They presented three compositions — 'Inspiration', 'dimensions' and 'Raghupati Raghava Rajaram.'

The evening concluded with a short duet concert by HKN and Bhaskar, who played 'Manavyala Kinchara Date' in Nalinakanti by Tyagaraja. Crisp and aesthetic swaras to the pallavi were pleasing. Sindhhubhairavi by Bhaskar was excellent with beautiful sangatis. The concert closed with Purandara Dasa's 'Tamboori Meetidava'.

HKN is blessed with a wife who is equally devoted to music and teaching. The couple's enthusiasm on stage throughout the day was praiseful and idolising. The Guru, highlighting the talent of the students and allowing them more to perform than performing himself was the motive, which is laudable.

Melodious & aesthetic

Harish Pandava presenting Saxophone recital at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on Feb.9. He is accompanied on violin by C.N. Tyagaraj, mridanga by Vishnuvardhan and ghata by Vikram Bharadwaj.

There are very few Saxophone artistes in Karnatak music. It was Kadri Gopalnath who successfully adapted this western instrument into Karnatak music with certain modifications.

A young Saxophonist Harish Pandava from Mysuru performed for Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on Feb.9. He was accompanied on violin by C.N. Tyagaraj, mridanga by Vishnuvardhan and ghata by Vikram Bharadwaj.

Harish chose to play popular compositions for the evening. His controlled playing even in the higher notes bringing out melody in an instrument like Saxophone is praise-worthy. Pranamamyaham Sri Gaurisutam' in Gawla by Mysuru Vasudevachar was suffixed by crisp enjoyable swaras.

'Akhilandeshwari Raksha Maam' by Deekshitar in Dwijavanti was an intelligent choice and was played in a suitable pace and shobhillu Saptaswara' (Tyagaraja) in Jaganmohini was lively. 'Swarakshara' in the composition at 'Dharahrtsaamaadulalo' was appreciative.

'Ganamurthe Sri Krishna Venu,' another popular number by Tyagaraja, was a good filler, which was immediately followed by Ra Ra Rajeevalochana Raama' in Mohana dealt with in detail. Tyagarajan's Mohana was equally enchanting. Delightful swaras to the pallavi portion were pleasing and the Taniyavartanam by Vishnu Vardhan and Vikram Bharadwaj was delectable.

A twenty-minute RTP followed as there was a little time left. Shanmukhapriya saw some rare sangatis in the alapana, a rhythmic tanam tempting the mridangist to follow and a simple pallavi on Muruga — 'Sharavana Muruha Guha Vinayaka Sahodara' set to Trishra Triputa Tala. 'Jagadoddharana' by Sri Purandaradasaru, 'Radha Sameta Krishna' of GNB fame and 'Bhagyada Lakshmi Baramma' also by Purandara Dasaru formed the concluding part of the concert.

Saxophone and Clarinet are instruments which many Karnatak music learners would not pursue. It is heartening to see young artistes like Harish taking this instrument seriously. Music organisations too should realise the worth of these instruments and encourage such artistes by giving them more opportunities.

Beating summer heat

Meanwhile, the Health Department has taken up awareness drives to ensure people do not face any health-related problems during summer. District Health Officers said they are taking all measures to prevent an outbreak of summer-related diseases.

Public Health Centres, Community Health Centres, Taluk and District Hospitals are being fully equipped against an outbreak of an epidemic, said District Health Officers.

Ward, Panchayat and Block-level Monitoring Committees will hold discussions to evaluate the disease situation.

Campaigns on using safe water for consumption, hygiene and cleanliness will be conducted as part of the awareness campaign. Camps where migrant labourers live will also be monitored. They will be made aware of the infectious diseases and precautions that have to be taken. A general warning has been issued to the public to ensure their surroundings are kept clean and mosquitoes are not allowed to breed. People have been asked to seek treatment as early as possible if sick.

Maintaining personal hygiene, eating balanced meals, hand washing, drinking more water and fruit juices and keeping their living environment clean are some of the measures that have to be taken during the summer season, the Health Officials said.

During his 25 years with Wipro, he established Wipro GE Medical Systems which brought appropriate technologies to transform medical diagnostics in India. He was the Vice-Chairman of Wipro. Prasanna made significant contribution to Manipal University as Executive Chairman of Manipal Education and Medical Group. He is a successful entrepreneur who setup Manipal Acunova Ltd., the leading Indian Clinical Research Organisation.

Infosys Founder N.R. Narayana Murthy, a distinguished alumnus from the batch of electrical degree at NIE in 1967, said, "Prasanna is a distinguished NIE alumnus and he is a competent, value-based, dynamic, result-oriented and team-oriented professional. It was he who germinated the idea of NIE University in the minds of the Management Council Members when he joined the NIE Management Council a few years ago. Thanks to his vision, leadership, tenacity, hard work and commitment, that idea is about to become a reality."

Prasanna said that NIE has been a pioneer, starting engineering education in India way back in 1946. "NIE has produced students like Narayana Murthy who put India on the Information Technology map of the world. NIE University has the opportunity to be a leader preparing students to solve the problems of a confident India in the twenty-first century. My endeavour will be to transform NIE University to become a sought-after Institution for students, researchers, faculty and employers in the country," he added.

The NIE is a 73-year-old engineering educational institution in Karnataka. Founded in 1946, NIE is the second oldest engineering college after Visvesvaraya College of Engineering and it has produced several famous engineers who have contributed significantly to premier engineering institutions in India.

NIE became autonomous in 2007 and now has its own curriculum which is dynamically responsive to industry demands.

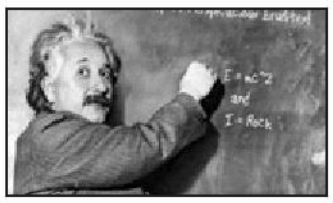
WORD OF THE DAY

Perspicacious

Pronunciation: per-spuh-KAY-shus



Meaning: Of acute mental vision or discernment: keen.

Origin: Perspicacious is similar in meaning to shrewd and astute, but a sharp mind will also discern subtle differences among them. All three denote being acute in perception and sound in judgment, but shrewd stresses practical, hardheaded cleverness, whereas perspicacious implies unusual power to see through and comprehend what is puzzling or hidden. Astute suggests both shrewdness and perspicacity, as well as diplomatic skill.

Example: Captivated by the breadth of its elegant façade — echoed in the grandeur of the interior spaces — the perspicacious owners enlisted their trusted decorator Jacques Grange ...to collaborate on a sensitive renovation. —Angus Wilkie, Architectural Digest, December 2017; Elsewhere in his speech, Daniels was perspicacious about the challenges that Purdue graduates are likely to face during the course of their careers and civic lives. —Conor Friedersdorf, The Atlantic, 6 June 2018

THE ODD WORD

Bilboes

An iron bar with sliding shackles, used to fasten prisoners' ankles.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A change is as good as a rest

Meaning: A change is as good as a rest is a proverb that expresses, in a fairly straightforward literal way, the notion that a change from one's regular occupation is as restorative as a holiday.

Origin: 'A change is as good as a rest' is a product of Victorian era. This one is harder to understand motive for as it is more of an observation than an exhortation. The idea expressed in the proverb is first found in the Christian Gleaner and Domestic Magazine, 1825: Change of work is as good as play. This isn't the source of the phrase as we now use it though. The currently used wording of the proverb is first found as the title of a poem that was widely published from 1857 onward. Here's the earliest example from the English newspaper The Hampshire Advertiser, August 1857:

Ye votaries of sofas and beds
Ye sloths who exertion detest,
This maxim I wish to drive into your heads
A change is as good as a rest.
Ye children of Fashion and Wealth,
With countless indulgences blest,
Remember that indolence preyeth on health
A change is as good as a rest.
